

credits, including specific coursework in some cases, before they can renew their licenses. The consequences of not renewing your license can vary from a fine, to other types of discipline. You may even be required to re-take the NCLEX.

- I recently accepted a tele-health nursing position, so now I care for patients in multiple states. Since practice is where the patient is, I need to be licensed in e

